Chair's report

Tēnā koutou katoa, it is my privilege to present this the Aged Care Association annual report for the year ending 31 July 2024.

This year has been marked by significant achievements, challenges, and progress in our mission to enable a well-functioning sustainable aged residential care sector, where providers are appropriately resourced and incentivised to deliver accessible quality care where and when needed.

The standout initiative this year was the Domino Effect campaign in the lead up to the General Election. The campaign highlighted the connections between aged care services and the broader health system. Through a series of events, advertising opportunities, social media, and partnerships, we successfully raised awareness and garnered significant media coverage, bringing much-needed attention to the challenges and triumphs within the aged care sector.

Seeing aged care related policy in a government coalition agreement as a result of our efforts was a win for the sector, and I plan to acknowledge this achievement with you at our annual conference in October.

Our campaign would have not been the success it was without the contributions of the ACA membership. For that, and for keeping our sector afloat and the people you care for safe and well looked after, thank you.

Securing adequate funding remains a critical issue. We have been working diligently to influence the Government's review of aged care services and funding models. We constantly remind Government and their agencies of the important role aged care providers play in supporting the public hospital system. We are the largest public/private partnership in New Zealand by any measure.

It is important that we continue to mobilise public opinion to recognise this positive value. Even with the redevelopment of a number of our public hospitals, actual hospital bed numbers are not being increased. With investment in aged care beds being stifled by inadequate funding we will see an ever increasing number of frail elderly New Zealanders being confined to their homes and unable to access the care that they need. Whilst we understand the Governments fiscal constraints, it is vital that they acknowledge the increasing demographic of older people who will need our services over the next 20 years.

This association will continue to advocate on your behalf for the 35,000 residents we care for, and the thousands more who will require our services in the future, to receive the quality care that they deserve. I want to acknowledge the approximately 122,000 hours of high-quality care you provide to vulnerable elderly people every day.

Securing adequate funding remains a critical issue.

I would like to take this opportunity to extend our heartfelt gratitude to Katherine Rich, who served as our interim chief executive in the lead up to the General Election in 2023. Her leadership and dedication during this transitional period was invaluable. We are deeply appreciative of her contributions and commitment to our mission.

At the same time, we are delighted to welcome the Hon. Tracey Martin as our new chief executive. Tracey brings a wealth of experience and a strong vision for the future of aged care in New Zealand. We are confident that under her leadership, the Aged Care Association will continue to thrive and make significant strides in improving the environment needed by our members to provide quality care.

A big thank you to the head office team who stepped up and kept the office functioning for an extended period while we searched for a new chief executive; it was a busy time, and we appreciate your efforts.

On your behalf I would like to thank my board for their excellent work and guidance over the past year, particularly deputy chair, Warick Dunn, who contributed a significant amount of his time during the transitional period before Tracey started, along with many hours representing your views to Te Whatu Ora | Health NZ. On a personal note, a big thanks to Warick for his support and advice to me in my role as chair.

At our Annual General Meeting last year, we farewelled long time board member and Mid Central representative, David Hall and welcomed Suzanne Lawes. Suzanne was a key player in the Domino Effect campaign and her commitment to the sector is greatly appreciated. Suzanne resigned from the board during the year, as she left the aged care sector. We wish both David and Suzanne all the very best. I also want to thank and acknowledge David Bennett for his contribution to the ACA board. We wish him well in his new role.

A big thank you to the Association's Nursing Leadership Group for their time and professional support. Their work is essential to supporting better health outcomes, complex clinical assessment, professional development and continuous improvement. The Nursing Leadership Group is chaired by ACA board member and clinical advisor, Rhonda Sherriff. I want to acknowledge and thank Rhonda for the many hours she contributes to aged care through her work for this association.

To all of the above mentioned, thank you for your commitment and leadership.

Chief executive's report

Tēnā koutou katoa, the last time many of you will have seen or heard anything from me was probably over four years ago when I was still the Minister for Seniors. After the 2020 election I spent a few years doing 'odd jobs'.

I helped redesign the remuneration system for teacher aides, I helped settle the secondary teachers strikes as a member of the arbitration panel, I renovated a caravan and spent a lot of quality time – after years of being away from home – with my husband. I enjoyed those days without politics, without having to get up at an ungodly hour to get in a car or on a plane. I most definitely did not want a job!

Until I saw this job advertised. There are two sections of our community I am passionate about – our children and our elders. There are many parts of life in between the beginning and the end of our lives that vary from person to person, but these two stages happen to us all. So, when I saw that the Aged Care Association was seeking a new chief executive I threw my hat in the ring.

As the Minister for Seniors who consulted on and developed the Better Later Lives strategy, I was very aware of the size of the challenge facing our country and our elder community created by successive governments avoidance of the unavoidable – our ageing population. I also know those who support our elders on behalf of the government do not receive the recognition or support they have the right to expect from that government. This is what has brought me out of semi-retirement to take this position, to once again advocate for our more mature communities and those who care for them.

Now usually the chief executive's message in an annual report is backward looking, outlining the achievements of the previous financial year. However, it's a bit difficult writing a reflective report for your membership organisation when you only arrive in the job in May, with two months left in that financial year. This means that I can take absolutely no credit for the consistent and considerable support provided to members over the 2023/2024 financial year.

The true heroes were and are:

- » Liz Robinson, previously communications and engagement adviser and now our chief operating officer.
- » John McDougall, our amazing data and insight specialist.
- » Kelly Wallace, my fantastic executive assistant.
- Lili Bush, our events and marketing coordinator extraordinaire – it takes a very special person to organise a conference while travelling through Europe.

And a real rock in the team – Min Su, and his sidekick, Shreyas Gandhi – accounts marvels.

During what was a difficult transition period without a permanent chief executive your board chair, Simon O'Dowd and deputy chair, Warick Dunn went above and beyond to ensure that what needed to be done got done for you, our membership.

66

To advocate for our more mature communities and those who care for them.

In December 2023 Sneha Pillai joined the team as senior policy advisor, followed in April 2024 by Bronte Dixon, ably taking over the communications advisor role. Last but not least, it has been a real pleasure to welcome the talents of Urvi Gadhia, to support conference preparations.

I want to thank the team for welcoming me into the role. After a few weeks getting on top of the "who does what?" front we hit the ground running. In the first three months we built on the profile lift begun by the very capable Kathrine Rich. We got out and about the country visiting members facilities, listening to the challenges and suggested solutions. We met with multiple Ministers, Ministry chief executives, Unions and Commissioners, advocates for our elders as well as colleagues in Home and Community Care and Palliative Care.

We gained an uplift of 3.2 percent in an extremely hostile financial environment, I learnt that the word "negotiate" means something quite different to Te Whatu Ora than it means to me. I saw the true size of the challenge. But we have a plan. As we head towards the next election we have begun implementing that plan. Hang in there, we are here to help.

Aged care service and funding review

Te Whatu Ora completed the first phase of a review of aged care services and funding models, which includes home and community-based care as well as residential aged care.

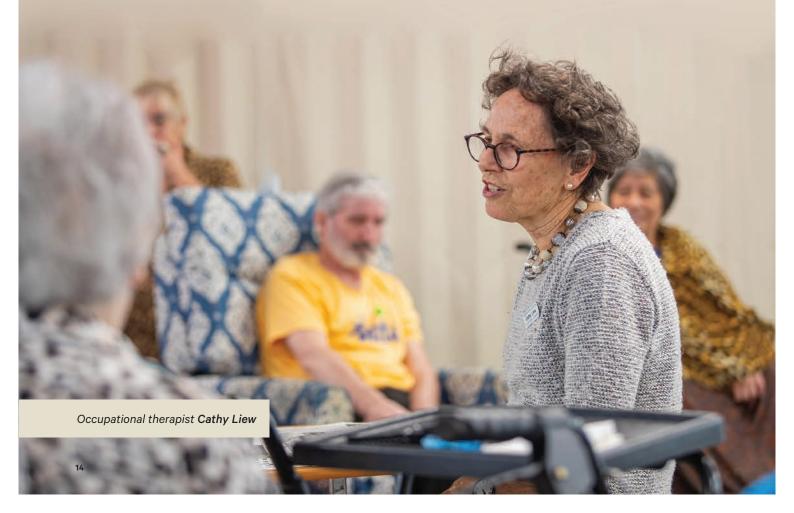

The review confirmed the core challenges and concerns raised by the Aged Care Association in recent years, and identified five pressing issues where policy and service delivery reform is required.

- » Funding levels for ARC and HCSS need to be increased
- » The funding models used to distribute funding to the sector are no longer fit for purpose
- » There are material ethnic inequities in accessing aged care services
- » The aged care sector continues to face significant workforce pressures
- » Issues with aged care are exacerbated in regional and rural New Zealand

The second phase of the review entails the development of new ways of providing aged care services and a new funding model.

Workshops were held around the country in early 2024.

An expert advisory group was formed soon after that, with ACA board chair, Simon O'Dowd chairing the group, with other ARC representation ably provided by ACA clinical adviser, Rhonda Sherrif and chief executive of CHT, Carrian Hall.

Pay equity

The peak bodies ACA, NZDSN, Platform and HCHA are continuing to work closely with the employer and union parties in all three pay equity claims for care and support workers.

Things are moving and changing fast in the pay equity space, with Te Whatu Ora | Health NZ working quickly to pivot from the previous "Funded Framework" approach to the new approach announced by the Government in May 2024.

Te Whatu Ora | Health NZ is developing a model for pay equity to take to Cabinet at the end of October, requesting a "contribution" from the pay equity contingency fund for an overall sector solution.

Changes at Te Whatu Ora | Health NZ, including the removal of the board, the appointment of a commissioner, and a directive to find $1.4 billion in savings within a year mean that we cannot assume that progress will be steady.

Te Whatu Ora | Health NZ's key focus when considering how to develop any proposed funding contribution is the need to manage risk to service disruption and its intention is to implement a solution across the entire care and support worker workforce at the same time.

Meanwhile, the union parties in the original pay equity claim have filed an application in the Employment Relations Authority to fix remuneration. Whether the application is successful is yet to be seen.

The Domino Effect

Our campaign in the lead up to the 2023 general election was to drive politicians to acknowledge, accept and intervene to create a sustainable aged residential care sector.

With the assistance of marketing agency, Anthem and creatives, Chemistry we designed a three-pronged campaign to get the change we need.

What we came up with was "The Domino Effect" – a campaign to illustrate how neglecting the aged care sector causes flow on effects in every other part of the health sector.

The creative concept shows beds falling like dominos to illustrate how a broken funding system would negatively impact New Zealand's seniors and the entire country.

We focussed on four cohorts – an older New Zealander unable to access the aged care he needs, a burnout, underpaid and overworked health worker, a child unable to get the treatment she needs in a timely way and a woman in the "sandwich" generation, juggling a career whilst also raising children and caring for elderly parents.

We chose to make our spending as effective as possible by hosting a large billboard close to parliament in Wellington and another on the way to Wellington airport, and at Wellington and Auckland airports. These smart billboards were programmed to show only when they detected the proximity of a mobile phone that had been clocked entering parliament grounds three times or more in the previous week.

We focussed on journalists who had previously covered aged care issues by sending them media kits filled with bespoke domino packs to drive the messaging and increase coverage.

The advertising was seen by well more than 14 million sets of eyes over a two-month period, reaching more than 3.7 million New Zealanders.

We secured 31 top tier media stories during the duration of the campaign, and an additional 15 pieces of secondary coverage, which showed an ongoing interest and visibility of the issues plaguing the sector.

ACA members provided third-party endorsement and powerful advocacy for the campaign.

During a busy lead up to the 2023 General Election, the aged care crisis was front and centre of the media agenda. There were very few New Zealanders who are not aware of our key messages or the outcomes we were seeking.

Our campaign had some of the political results we were hoping for. NZ First included funding for aged care in its manifesto, and when the coalition government was confirmed in late 2023 the following policies were agreed:

- » Investigate the funding formula for new residential care beds.
- » Engage openly and constructively with the aged-care sector.
- » Undertake a select committee inquiry into aged care provision to include supporting people with early onset conditions and what asset thresholds are appropriate in 2023/24.
- » Work on establishing bipartisan agreement to fund both care and dementia beds that New Zealand needs now and with a focus on the long-term needs by 2040.

Board chair, Simon O'Dowd said the result was "the most that has ever appeared in a new government's aims and objectives for aged care".

Our work now is to cement the progress we have made and work towards a healthy and sustainable aged residential care sector, where every New Zealander who needs aged care can access it, where and when they need it.

The NZACAE Trust was established as a registered Charity with Charities Services in May 2018. (Reg. No. CC55451).

The Trust took over the educational activities of the Society on 1 July 2018. In relinquishing its charitable status, NZACA Inc. donated net assets valued to be $1,146,937 at 30 June 2018 to the Trust. #### To the Members of New Zealand Aged Care Association Incorporated

Report on the Audit of the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the special purpose consolidated financial statements of New Zealand Aged Care Association Incorporated ("Association") and New Zealand Aged Care Association Education Trust (the "Trust) (together referred to as the "Group") on pages 24 to 34 which comprise the special purpose consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 June 2024, and the special purpose consolidated statement of financial performance and special purpose consolidated statement of movement in equity for the year then ended, and notes to the special purpose consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying special purpose consolidated financial statements present fairly in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of New Zealand Aged Care Association Incorporated as at 30 June 2024, and of its consolidated financial performance for the year then ended, in accordance with the Accounting Policies set out in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (New Zealand) (ISAs (NZ)). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the special purpose Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with Professional and Ethical Standard 1 International Code of Ethics for Assurance Practitioners (including International Independence Standards) (New Zealand) issued by the New Zealand Auditing and Assurance Standards Board, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to the Statement of Compliance within the consolidated financial statements, which describes the basis of accounting. The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with a special purpose framework and, therefore, may not be suitable for another purpose. Our report is intended solely for the Members and the Board of Directors and should not be distributed to or used by parties other than the Members and the Board of Directors. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Board of Directors Responsibilities for the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements

The Board of Directors are responsible on behalf of the Group for the preparation and fair presentation of these special purpose consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Framework and for such internal control as those charged with governance determine is necessary to enable the preparation of special purpose consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Grant Thornton New Zealand Audit Limited is a related entity of Grant Thornton New Zealand Limited. 'Grant Thornton' refers to the brand under which the Grant Thornton member firms provide services to their clients and/or refers to one or more member firms, as the context requires. In preparing the special purpose consolidated financial statements, those charged with governance are responsible on behalf of the Group for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the Audit of the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special purpose consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (NZ) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these special purpose consolidated financial statements.

A further description of the auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements is located on the External Reporting Board's website at: https://www.xrb.govt.nz/standards-for-assurance-practitioners/auditors-responsibilities/audit-report-8/

Restriction on use of our report

This report is made solely to the Group's Members and Board of Directors, as a body. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Group's Members and Board of Directors, as a body, those matters which we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose.
